

MAXIMIZE YOUR RETURN ON HUMAN CAPITAL

DiSC is a dynamic, research-validated tool that can help you better understand your organization. It enables your employees and leaders to learn how to better understand their style and the styles of others, increasing collaboration and organizational effectiveness.

Bishop House Consulting offers a host of DiSC solutions for every audience from front line staff to leaders to the sales force. It's more than a training program, it's a tool to help you manage and develop your employees and organization. Let's get started today on better developing your human capital.

© 2012 Inscape Publishing, Inc.

One-on-One Coaching

Coaching offers the opportunity for employees and leaders to take a deeper look at their style and how to better engage with others, take risks, and make decisions. Our coaching sessions will help create actionable steps to improve effectiveness.

Team and Organizational Development

Organizations are requiring a greater level of cross functionality and collaboration among mixed groups of staff. Whether as a part of an employee development program or if you need to solve a specific business problem, we can help your employees understand their styles, increase communication, and interact more effectively with one another.

Increase Team Effectiveness

Dysfunction within a team or business unit can quickly erode performance and morale. We can help teams understand how their behaviors and styles are perceived and how to best work with different styles. This opens up communication which increases teamwork and team effectiveness.

Management and Leadership Development

In today's business environment, leaders need to be able to lead change effectively. We can deliver a highly personalized experience that can help your organization develop stronger change capabilities with your leadership teams, whether as a standalone solution or as a part of a larger management development or executive coaching program.

Organizational Analysis & Planning

Understanding the cultures and behaviors that exist in your organization is critical in developing more effective organizational plans, succession plans, and future programs. We can provide ongoing reporting and consultation through comparison and culture reporting to help you make better decisions within your organization.

Contact Us Today

Contact Mike Holland, President
(518) 885-9064
Info@bishophouse.com